For labs in this course, discussion is allowed and even encouraged.

So sharing a piece of code of labs to another student (via email, messaging app, on a USB stick) ...

Select one:

- ☐ is fine, as long as the recipient promises not to copy your work.
- ☒ might lead to your both being charged with an academic honesty offense if the student copies from you.
- ☐ is a form of collaboration encouraged by the university.
- ☐ will lead to only the recipient's being charged with an academic honesty offense if that student copies your work.
